think, matters, and certainly can matter in the context of a particular situation that may arise. And so I would simply encourage you to restore the current law and let the proponents of the measure come forth on Select File suggesting specific boards and specific instances where they think the law should not apply. And then we can have a really good debate on this subject, then we can talk about the specific situation, whether it's the Liquor Commission, or any other board or commission. Then we can look and see what the composition of the commission is, how statutorily they're defined, whether it really is important to have that financial...

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: One minute.

SENATOR BEUTLER: ...interest statement or not. We can talk about it in a specific context, and that will matter, that will be important and that will be understandable. But this broad-brush approach is not understandable in a debate on the floor and I think admittedly too broad, as you have gleaned from the discussion on the floor. Thank you.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Thank you, Senator Beutler. The question before us is the adoption of the Beutler amendment to LB 417. Those in favor vote aye, those opposed nay. Senator Beutler.

SENATOR BEUTLER: Let's just have a call of the house and roll call vote, to get everybody on record.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: Thank you, Senator. The motion before us is to put the house under call. All those in favor vote aye, those opposed nay. Record.

CLERK: 29 ayes, 0 nays, Mr. President, to place the house under call.

PRESIDENT MAURSTAD: The house is under call. Would all senators please record their presence. Would all unauthorized personnel please leave the floor. The house is under call. Senator Baker, Senator Lynch, Senator Chris Peterson, Senator Don Pederson, house is under call. Senators Wickersham, Kristensen, Tyson. The house is under call. Senator Raikes.
